

2013 National Scout Jamboree

Adult Leader Interest Form

For the last 30 years the National Jamboree's home has been at Fort A.P. Hill in Virginia and because of its size and location it served as a great place for thousands of boys to have one of the best scouting experiences that our program has to offer. However because of some very generous donations to the Boy Scouts of America, the organization will be opening up a new fourth high adventure base in West Virginia in 2013. To mark the celebration, the Boy Scouts have decided to hold the National Jamboree that summer on July 15th – July 24th, 2013 at the new location. The site is named: The Summit Bechtel Family National Scout Reserve or just "The Summit" for short, and it is located a little over 250 miles west of Fort A.P. Hill. Construction has already begun and has been going on for several months now in order to prepare the site for the barrage of Jamboree troops that will experience the new scout reserve for the first time.

With less than 2 ½ years away from 2013 National Jamboree, we would like to get a jump on the process of selecting the adult leadership for the Pony Express Council's Contingent. If you are interested in serving in one of the leadership positions, please fill out the following interest card and return it to the council office.
